

NEW PERSPECTIVES ON CICERO'S PHILOSOPHY

February 10-11, 2018

The ethical and political issues treated in Cicero's major philosophical writings have been a topic of lively interest in modern scholarship. With funding from the Matariki Network, from the University of Durham and from Dartmouth College, this conference brings together an international group of scholars who are actively working on Cicero's ethical and political thought.

For information on the venue please contact nathan.b.gilbert@durham.ac.uk.

Jed Atkins
Cicero on the Justice of War

Nathan Gilbert
Cicero against Lucretius De morte

Margaret Graver
The psychology of honor in Cicero's
De Re Publica

Sean McConnell
Old Men in Cicero's Political Philosophy

Geert Roskam
Nos in diem vivimus: Cicero's approach in the Tusculan disputations

Malcolm Schofield
Iuris consensu revisited

Katharina Volk
Towards a Definition of Sapientia:
Philosophy in Cicero's Pro Marcello

Georgina White
Skepticism and Fiction in the Academica

Raphael Woolf
Cicero on Rhetoric and Dialectic

James Zetzel
Cicero's Platonic Dialogues